THIEVES MAKE LIFE A BURDEN

Rush County Farmer, Victimized,
Until Distracted, Wants to Sell His Farm.

WOULD LEAVE COMMUNITY

Same Complaint Was Made by Other
Farmers Who Suffered a Similar Experience.

Again comes a story of night robbery from the rural community near Orange, which seems impossible for the residents of the neighborhood to abolish. The residents have made many complaints and have had a few suspicious but no definite clew to the perpetrators of the continued night robberies. Everything possible has been done to avoid having their belongings stolen but of no avail, but it is more than likely that "murder will out" eventually.

Walter Aldridge is the latest victim of the thieves, and is disposed to sell his small fifty acre farm to avoid the aggravating nuisance, and has offered his farm for sale on that account.

Among many smaller articles being reported stolen by his neighbors Aldridge has missed unknown quantities of corn all the summer long, and a number of grain sacks. He was complaining of the loss of the corn when the crib of his farm was not broken into, when it was suggested that he should own a dog, to which he replied, "I have got a dog, but nobody's afraid of him, and he is a good ratter so I feed him." It was then suggested that the rats had eaten or carried off his corn and Aldridge replied "The corn-eaters didn't carry off my monkey-wrench, and a celloid ring I just paid forty cents for, nor two shoats anyway, and I don't like this thieving work, and will move if I can sell my place." Aldridge is related to A. L. Aldridge, the grocer here and is a hustling, honest young married man, and it will be a blessing to him, and to the community in which he lives, as well, if these night prowlers could be apprehended and severely dealt with.

NARROWLY AVERT A SERIOUS WRECK

Pony Truck Dropped on Big Four Passenger Train and Tore up the Tracks.

ENGINEER WAS ON THE JOB

A disastrous wreck was narrowly averted this morning about eleven o'clock on the Big Four railroad, three-fourths of a mile south of Milroy, and but for the timely action of the engineer, it is reasonable to presume that several lives would have been lost and much property damaged.

The passenger train was speeding along at a high rate when the pony truck of the locomotive dropped down tearing up the track for considerable distance. The train was promptly stopped and after a delay of an hour and half was enabled to proceed.

From Court House to Chautauqua
Grounds August 6.

On Friday morning, August 6, the Sunday schools of the county will march in a parade from the court house to the Chautauqua grounds, where an address will be delivered by some one well prepared to speak. An effort is now being made to secure Rev. Herbert H. Moninger of Cincinnati, but as Mr. Moninger is in Pennsylvania for several days, word has not been received from him direct.

JOSHUA MORRIS GIVES UP FIGHT

Brother of Douglas Morris Succumbs
After a Heroic Battle Against Inevitable End.

HAD RUGGED CONSTITUTION.

New Castle, Ind., July 23.—Joshua I. Morris, 62 years old, vice president of the first National Bank of this city since 1905, died today at noon at his home on South Fourteenth street. Mr. Morris had been in poor health for the last twenty years, but a rugged constitution and a strong will power enabled him to stave off death.

Mr. Morris was a native of Henry county and had spent all of his life here. Ex-Judge Douglas Morris of Rushville and A. O. Morris and Mrs. Elizabeth Heritage of Knightstown are brothers and sister.

In November, 1882, Mr. Morris was elected auditor of Henry county and continued in this capacity for two terms of four years each.

A daughter, Miss Blanch Morris, and her mother survive. Mr. Morris was active in the affairs of the Republican party. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and a Scottish Rite Mason.

WILL ADVERTISE BY AUTOMOBILE ROUTE

Chautauqua Advertising Committee
Will Visit Small Towns Three Nights Next Week.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB TO GO ALONG

The advertising committee of the Chautauqua have made definite arrangements to advertise the county on next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights by the automobile route. On each evening several small towns will be visited and advertising matter distributed. The caravan will consist of three touring cars, which will carry the Girls' Glee Club, Chautauqua officials, and newspaper men. It is planned to make the Chautauqua this year the most popular event in the history of Rush county. The promoters are carrying on the campaign in the right manner by popularizing it with well-selected advertising matter.

NOT UP WITH RUSH.

Greensburg News: We are lifting our hat to George and Charley Short living four miles south of this city, who threshed 1120 bushels of wheat from a forty-acre field, an average of twenty-eight bushels to the acre, and a test weight of 59½ pounds.

Rushville is going to boom.

Best Slogan for Rushville

That is what the Rush County Chautauqua Association wants for advertising Rushville. The Association offers a prize of Five Dollars for the phrase or slogan selected as the most suitable for the fight for a bigger and better town. The contest will be open from now until 6 p. m. on the evening of Aug. 6th. Slogans and phrases should be sent to the Slogan Contest Editor of the Daily Republican. Slogans arriving before noon will be published in this paper the same day. Everyone is eligible. Send in as many ideas as you have. The judges will be announced later. Announcement of winner will be made at the opening night of the Chautauqua.

What the Association wants is something new, crisp and effective. It wants something that won't wear out because it is to be used permanently in the future campaign for Rushville enterprises.

Address Slogan Contest Editor,
Daily Republican Office.

SOME LOCAL COLOR IN DEMONSTRATION

Fire Bell Pealed Forth Just as Exhibit of Fire Extinguisher Was Being Made.

HAD A WONDERFUL DEVICE

A fellow demonstrating fire extinguishers gave an exhibit on the corner of Main and Second streets last night. The apparatus was astonishing to those who witnessed the demonstration. For a time it was thought the fire he started would burn up our oiled streets. Just as the fellow applied a match to the boxes and debris he had arranged in a pile, the fire bell rang—it being the curfew hour—and it made the exhibition more thrilling and realistic.

RIBS BROKEN IN STORM

Door and Load of Hay.

John Shaw, who lives on the John Beheimer farm, one mile southwest of Manilla, was injured during the storm Thursday. Shaw was taking a load of hay into the barn when the storm came up. The wind blew the barn door against the hay rigging. Shaw was caught between the door and the load and was greatly bruised in addition to having two ribs broken. Dr. Emerson Barnum of Manilla was called to attend to the injured man.

READMOND MAY LOSE EYE

Milroy Man Struck Cow With Corn
Stalk and it Rebounded.

While driving cattle Tuesday, Cassius Readmond suffered a painful and perhaps serious injury to his eye, says the Milroy Press. He struck a cow with a corn stalk, when a piece of the stalk flew back striking him in the eye. He went to Cincinnati and consulted Dr. Sattler, who advised him to remain at the sanitarium for a few days, believing that he could save the eyesight.

GRADUALLY DRYING UP.

BOY WAS A HERO IN BIG CONFLAGRATION

When the Barn Was Set on Fire by Lightning, Youth Saved
Valuable Machine.

OWNER SUFFERED HEAVY LOSS

The Greenfield Tribune adds the following concerning the fire near Morristown Thursday afternoon:

Lightning struck the big barn of Ed. Hawk's on his farm near Lardonia Crossing in the southern part of Hancock county Thursday afternoon. The barn caught fire and burned to the ground with a part of its contents.

There were twenty-six loads of new hay in the barn, also 400 bushels of new wheat, two buggies, a carriage and many other articles.

There was no one at home at the time of the fire except a nine-year-old boy, who showed great presence of mind and proved himself equal to the emergency. As it happened the horses which were in the barn were harnessed and the boy succeeded in getting them out. Then he hitched them to a separator which was in the driveway and pulled it to a safe place thus saving several hundred dollars in property. The barn and contents were insured for $2900.

PLAN IMMENSE AUTO PAGEANT

Chautauqua Promoters Expect
Much of Big Automobile Parade
For Afternoon Aug. 6.

REGISTER YOUR NAME EARLY

Every Machine Owner in the County is Requested to "Get In" And Make the Affair a Success.

The Chautauqua promoters are expecting big things for the first day of the Chautauqua, when the big automobile parade will be held. They would like to have everyone in the county, who owns a machine to join in the undertaking and make it one big grand success. With the number of automobiles to be found in Rush county it is thought that a parade over a mile long can be made. The committee in charge not only wants this, but say that it will be the case.

The committee is composed of the following men: F. E. Wolcott, chairman, Elmer Caldwell and Thomas J. Arbuckle, and they are already booking machines and assigning them positions in the parade. They request that each owner, who desires to enter the parade will register his or her name at Wolcott's drug store so that they may be able to get a line on the number of machines to be expected. It is best to sign your name and save the committee the trouble of looking you up, as they have a directory and will call on every automobile owner in the county and ask him to join in the procession.

It is thought that over one hundred machines can be secured to take part in the spectacle. They will be parked around the court house square before the parade and then the line formed. The line of parade will pass over the principal streets, to be announced definitely, later, and to the Chautauqua grounds.

The automobiles will be filled with different organizations, the young men's business club being given a prominent position. The first two or three machines will be official machines and will carry the officers of the Chautauqua. The Girls' Glee club, the members of the Tri Kappa sorority, the G. A. R., county officials and city officials will all be invited to take a place in the immense pageant. It is expected to be the greatest "home-made" affair ever seen in Rushville and will be worth coming miles to see. The more who join in the affair and help to make it a success, the greater a success it will be.

BIG THINGS IN A BIG HOSPITAL

Features of a New Asylum For the Insane in New Jersey.

A theater equipped with dressing rooms, drop curtains and other appurtenances of a modern playhouse, in which the patients will entertain and be entertained, is one of the up to date features of the new $2,000,000 hospital for the insane at Overbrook, near Montclair, N. J., which was formally inspected the other day by the Essex county board of freeholders. The auditorium is 60 by 130 feet and has a large stage.

Another up to date feature of the big asylum is an X ray machine which is said to be the second largest in the United States.

There are accommodations in the huge asylum for 1,300 persons. A tubelike corridor that connects all the buildings on the grounds is 2,100 feet long, or over a third of a mile. This corridor extends in a straight line for 1,800 feet. In the main dining room it is planned to seat 1,000 patients at a time. In the big kitchen there are five coffee urns that have a capacity of 150 gallons each, and any one of the six great ovens is of a capacity sufficient to roast a side of beef at a time. The boiler house of the plant is situated on the highest point in Essex county, and the smokestack, 175 feet high, is the most conspicuous landmark in the region.

Double Name For a Comet.

The director of the Paris observatory announced at the Academy of Sciences in Paris the other night the discovery of the new comet made recently by M. ## IT WAS STRICKEN OUT

Arkansas Congressman Declares Congressional Record Was Padded.

Washington, July 24.—Representative Macon (Ark.) reverting to his recent colloquy with Mr. Rucker (Col.), charged that the Colorado member had inserted in the Congressional Record certain references to him which had not been uttered.

Not only had this been done, he said, but insult had been added to injury by placing in brackets at the end of the remarks "Great applause." He wanted it all stricken out, "especially the 'great applause.'"

This was ordered done after Mr. Rucker had explained that he actually made the statement on the floor and insisted that there was applause. The speaker declared the motion to strike out carried, although he failed to take the negative vote.

The session was further enlivened when Mr. Randall (Tex.) wanted the speaker to appoint a judiciary committee to consider bills prohibiting members of congress and court officers from accepting gifts of employment from corporations, trusts or persons interested in legislation.

ILLINOIS TO FACE
A SPECIAL SESSIONGovernor Will Ask Passage of Another Primary Law.

Springfield, Ill., July 24.—All doubts regarding the special session of the assembly scheduled for this fall have been set at rest by Gov. Deneen announcing semi-officially that it will be called and that he will ask for the passage of another direct primary law.

It was reported this week that the leaders in the house organization, being opponents of the direct system of nominations, had made up their minds that the legislature would not be called in special session and that no effort to replace the primary law would be made.

Mr. Deneen had not made a formal announcement of his purpose to recall the legislators, although he had discussed the probable date at which the assembly would be reconvened. He has now supplemented this with the statement that he would make a number of speeches in the state in September and October, arguing for direct primaries, and that the legislature would be called back to work in November.

A long, hard fight is in prospect if the governor insists on the re-enactment of a direct primary law, inasmuch as the opponents of the system, who were almost able to block the enactment of the Oglesby bill in 1908, are again on the scene, fully as active and just as powerful. It is in anticipation of this fight that the governor intends to make a special campaign in an effort to secure the necessary backing of public opinion.

Springfield Society Agitated.

Springfield, Ill., July 24.—Springfield society leaders are up in arms over the action of the trustees of the park district in granting negro residents the use of Washington park pavilion for a dance. When the leaders, who have used the pavilion for countless social events, became aware of the action of the board the greatest indignation was expressed. Washington park is located in the aristocratic residence section of the city, and society leaders intimate that the park will be boycotted in the future.

Some Fast Autoing.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 24.—Louis Chevrolet, in a fifty-mile automobile race here with Lewis Strang and George Dewitt, broke the world's record for fifty miles on a circular track by making the distance in 51 minutes 22 seconds. The best previous time is said to have been 52 minutes 48 seconds made by Strang at Springfield, Ill., last Saturday.

Twenty-Five and the Property Loss

In Excess of a Million Dollars—

Storm Warnings Had Given the People

—Loss to Crops Not as Heavy as

Was at First Estimated.

Houston, Tex., July 24.—Dispatches from the storm-swept coast sections of Louisiana and Texas, and from a hundred miles of the interior, illumine but little the tale of the hurricane of Wednesday, which raved in intensity the storm of 1900. Today the number killed is conservatively estimated at twenty-five; those more or less seriously injured are twice as many, and the property loss is conservatively estimated at a million dollars. Belated reports may add to the list of casualties and the property damage, but except to isolated points all communication has been restored.

Late dispatches show that damage was done by the storm throughout a section in Texas extending on an average 100 miles into the interior. Many counties send reports indicating that very few householders escaped losses of at least a minor sort, which in the aggregate total a large sum. While the property destruction has been great, the loss of life and the proportion of injury is almost inexplicably small. This is attributed largely to the fact that storm warnings gave the inhabitants an opportunity to prepare. Again, as in 1900, the severest portion of the blow came during the daylight.

In many places crops have been prostrated, but the hot sun following the hurricane is doing much to restore normal conditions in the fields, and loss estimates from this source are very easy of exaggeration.

Along the coast the storm extended from a point near New Orleans to Brownsville, with the center of severity in the neighborhood of Bay City and Velasco. In the interior the damage zone furthest north is along the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio railway, with zig-zag dives at towns and into rural districts to the north of it. The following is a list of the towns from which the reports of the greatest damage have come: Galveston, Bay City, Velasco, Angleton, Columbia, Wharton, Columbus, Palacios, Eagle Lake, Weimer, New Ulm, Schuenburg, Allentown, Beasley, Kendleton, Sublime, Glidden, Markham, LaGrange, Bastrop, El Campo, Yoakum, Garwood, Matthews, Bonus, Waelder, Flatonia and Austin.

TRADE REVIEW

Several Interesting Factors Enter Into the Situation.

New York, July 24.—Says Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today: "Improvement in the crops, rather between advices as to ultimate outcome of the leading cereals, easing in prices of breadstuffs consequent thereon, or because of larger wheat crop movement, a good distribution at retail under the stimulus of clearance sales, and a slight enlargement of fall trade with jobbers and wholesalers, are the leading features this week. Connected therewith in some degree are the advices from leading industries of enlargement of output, of a continuance of the upward tendency in values of manufactured goods, a larger demand for money for crop-moving purposes, and a perceptible increase in the friction visible between employers and employees in a number of lines. This latter is a natural phenomena of the industrial situation, possibly made more notable this year by reason of the high level of prices of commodities and the consequent cost of living."

Waiting to Hear From Reyes.

WOMAN MURDERED
AT TERRE HAUTEShe and a Male Companion
Attacked by a Gang.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 24.—Mary Winters, a woman who had been living in Jockey alley, of the west end slums, was found dead with a man named Charles Gebhardt lying unconscious by her side, on the embankment of the Vandallia track, between the river and West Terre Haute.

The man recovered consciousness long enough to say he and the woman had been attacked by a gang. His head is badly battered.

The woman was killed by blows on the head. Her body was covered by two gunnysacks. The man is believed to have come from Martisville, Ill., and was employed at the stamping and enameling factory. Each was about thirty years old.

MYSTERY DEEPENS

Further Revelations Give Indication of Murder Near Greensburg.

Greensburg, Ind., July 24.—The mystery surrounding the death of the man found lying beside the railroad track east of the city deepens. A large iron hook, similar to those used by firemen to pull down standpipes, was found about fifty feet from where the body lay and at the point where a part of the flesh was found. Another peculiar feature is the fact that while the body was lying north of the westbound track, all the blood spots, the hat and the iron hook were scattered along the track west of the body. So far the body has not been identified.

Evidences of Double Murder.

Huntington, W. Va., July 24.—What may prove to be a double murder was unearthed when the body of John Welch, a well-to-do coal operator, and the body of John Rogers, a miner, were found lying beside the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad tracks near Kayford. Welch's skull was crushed. Rogers's body was cut to pieces. Welch is known to have had several hundred dollars in his possession. Only $7 was found on his body.

Suspicion of Foul Play.

Decatur, Ind., July 24.—The body of an unknown man was found in a brush heap near the Erie tracks, west of here. It is thought he was murdered. The body has a large wound on the forehead. The man was about thirty-six years old and was crippled in the left hand. Coroner J. C. Grandstaff is making an examination. There are no papers or letters by which the body may be identified.

He Had Been Drinking.

Kokomo, Ind., July 24.—Owen Sheppe, a structural iron worker employed at the plate glass works here, committed suicide by swallowing morphine tablets. He was twenty-six years old, and ever since losing his situation Wednesday night had been drinking heavily.

A Boy and a Gun.

Muncie, Ind., July 24.—David Grove, the eighteen-year-old boy who was accidentally shot by his own revolver while driving to his home near Farm-land, is still alive, but is thought to be fatally injured.

count of Defective Vision.

South Bend, Ind., July 24.—Because of defective vision, Etima Vaneista was denied admission to this country at New York and is again on her way across the Atlantic to her home in Belgium. With her is her husband, Joseph Vaneista, who had been living in South Bend for some time. He prospered in this city. Saving his money to bring his wife to the United States, the time came a few months ago when he had enough to pay her passage.

Happy in the anticipation of seeing her husband again, Mrs. Vaneista journeyed across the ocean. When the immigrant inspectors came aboard the boat, however, they placed the woman on the "undesirable" list. Vaneista was in New York to meet his wife and bring her on to South Bend. He appealed to the authorities and Congressman Henry A. Barnhart tried to help them. Mr. Barnhart did what he could with the immigration officials. In the meantime Vaneista remained in New York to be as near his wife as possible. The congressman found the law such that there is no redress. The decision was final. When this fact was communicated to Vaneista, broken by the weeks of anxiety, he said that he would return to the old country with his wife.

MACHINE TURNED TURTLE

Illinois Man Badly Hurt by Machine
Driven by Cannon's Nephew.

Crawfordsville, Ind., July 24.—By the overturning of an automobile driven by O. W. Cannon, a nephew of Uncle Joe, of Danville, John Noone, a wealthy brewer of Danville, Ill., was seriously injured. The machine was wrecked when it jumped a ten-foot embankment on the Indianapolis road, two miles east of Crawfordsville, being driven at a rate of about twenty miles an hour.

Mr. Noone suffered a broken collar-bone and bruises about the shoulder and body, being pinned under the machine as it "turned turtle." Mr. Cannon and Ed Gilmore, also of Danville, and the third occupant of the car, were both riding in the front seat and were thrown clear of the wrecked machine, escaping with slight bruises.

Mr. Noone was taken to Culver Union hospital, where his injuries were dressed. He will recover. The men were driving from Danville to Indianapolis.

HAD GOOD EFFECT

Application For Injunction Calms Elwood Tin Plate Strikers.

Elwood, Ind., July 24.—The petition for an injunction has apparently had a good effect at the local plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company. No pickets are in sight and only one policeman is to be seen at the gate. So quiet is the situation that E. R. Call, the company's attorney, says he has almost decided to ask that the application for an injunction against the strikers be dismissed. It is certain the company will not enforce the injunction if it is granted unless the men should get boisterous and unmanageable. Thos. O'Brien, district manager, says that it is not his intention to take any advantage of his old employees and that all who desire to return to work, with the exception of a very few, will be given work in the "open shop."

Fort Wayne's Close Primary.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 24.—In the closest primary election ever held in Fort Wayne, August M. Schmidt, Democrat, present city comptroller, was nominated mayor by a plurality of 4 in a total vote approximating 6,000. His nearest opponent was Charles McCulloch, president of the Hamilton National bank. There were two other candidates. Jesse Grice was nominated by the Republicans over B. W. Skelton, at present municipal judge.

Jumped Track at Curve.

Seymour, Ind., July 24.—Five persons were painfully injured here when an interurban car jumped the track at a sharp curve. The car jumped a fifteen-foot embankment. Fifteen passengers were aboard, and all were shaken up.

Michigan City, Ind., July 24.—Frank Banks, aged thirteen, and George Stalger, aged ten, members of Trinity cathedral choir, were drowned in Lake Michigan while bathing.

of the California Fig Syrup Co. and the scientific attainments of its chemists have rendered possible the production of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, in all of its excellence, by obtaining the pure medicinal principles of plants known to act most beneficially and combining them most skillfully, in the right proportions, with its wholesome and refreshing Syrup of California Figs.

As there is only one genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna and as the genuine is manufactured by an original method known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, it is always necessary to buy the genuine to get its beneficial effects.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM...it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

LIBERTY IS CONFIDENT.

(Liberty Herald.)

Charles L. Henry, president of the I. & C. traction road, sees a business revival of vast proportions ahead and his experienced view is the same as other men of large affairs. He states that capital is now seeking investment and that the era of prosperity is now getting under headway. Liberty's dream of having a traction road will be realized during the next year, it is predicted.

TWO NARROW ESCAPES.

(Greensburg News.)

Why some persons were not killed Wednesday on the I. & C. traction line in this city, we fail to comprehend. Not that it was any fault of the company, however, but the carelessness displayed by the parties in question. During the afternoon a woman leaped from a rig when an incoming car passed the vehicle on the street. She afterwards explained she was afraid the horse was going to run away, but from every appearance she was more frightened than the horse as the animal failed to pay any attention whatever to the car. The woman did not stop to think that she held a small child in her arms, and when she fell, she was on top of the baby. But a few minutes had elapsed when this same car was leaving the city, a square west of the News office, a man walked in the street leading a span of mules. He did not get off of the track and when the car was almost upon him, he made the mistake of falling down in front of it. The mules side stepped and the fellow somehow rolled out of the way as the car whizzed by. How he escaped, we bet even he cannot explain.

GET BACK AT AN EDITOR.

(Andersonville Herald.)

Ha! Ha! You got back at us all right that time, Friend O'Hair, and much obliged for thinly veiled though plainly perceptible compliment. The "wall flower" is a very useful plant sometimes though often overlooked by those whose low tastes and base breeding call for something flashy and tawdry withal. The violet is a "wall flower" and though modest and unassuming yet it is unsurpassed in God's kingdom. The poison oak is a "mixer" but who wants to be a poison vine anyway.

A REAL LIVE WEEDER.

(New Castle Courier.)

R. W. Prather, who lives near Columbus, Ind., has a living weeder that is doing admirable work. The weeder is a half-grown calf, and it works early and late. In some manner this calf has been trained to go into the corn fields and chew up the weeds. It never offers to bother the growing corn, but it is death on weeds, and the field where it worked last week is just as clean as if human hands had pulled every weed in it. The calf may be rented in the neighborhood to work the rest of the season.

SECOND SANDOW IS TONY MOSTER

Rush County Giant Makes Wager on
His Ability to Accomplish Feats.

CARRY BARREL OF WHISKEY

To Top of Cavitt's Hill—Might Lose
Strength, Like Samson, if Shorn of Huge Mustache.

A discussion of a crowd of men collected on the levee over the recent feats of strength published and brought to light in the Daily Republican, has brought forth a climax to all of them. A jaw-breaker to the crowd who overheard the crowning achievements of Tony Moster told in his own peculiar eloquence.

Tony and his brother Mike are well known characters in Rush county—Tony for his Herculean physique, and Mike for his air-domed white sombrero, and loose, long flowing mustache and good humor. Both are of the old school of German and speak two languages. Well, anyhow to begin with, they are gigantic in build and mind, and after taking a Bertillon measurement of either of them mentally, no listener would willingly doubt their strength, or anything they would choose to say, for "full" many a doubting Thomas has fallen for questioning these fellows' veracity. But the story is to be reckoned with, for L. O. Hamilton a partner of Hamilton, Harris & Co., Indianapolis wholesalers, and formerly of Orange, was inclined to believe all of it, and "backed up" in a wager made with Tony, who agreed to carry a barrel of granulated sugar (barrel and sugar, 365 pounds) a mile for it, and if he did not carry it a mile, he (Moster) would give him a check for the amount and leave the sugar at the store. Hamilton was on the point of accepting the wager when his mother interposed with, "Oh, L. O. don't do it, didn't he carry our big baseburner down stairs and set it up without any help?"

Mrs. Hamilton, Tony declared, beat him out of that barrel of sugar, but now he asserts that he will wager the price of a barrel of the best whiskey in town (40 gallons, 460 pounds) against the price of it $200, that he can carry barrel and whiskey from the last saloon that goes out of business to Cavitt's hill without letting it down. Andersonville visitors that overheard his remarks declared that he carried a barrel of cider vinegar over a mile to his home for it, and that it would not be well for anyone to bet with Tony.

How to Cure Skin Diseases.

INDIANA MILKMAN TO HAVE MEETING

State Food and Drug Commissioner
Issues an Invitation to Them.

IT WILL PROVE PROFITABLE

H. E. Barnard, State food and drug commissioner, has sent out letters, inviting State and city health officers, dairymen and others interested to attend the second annual meeting of dairymen at the State House on Wednesday and Thursday, September 9 and 10. Such a meeting was held last year, and Mr. Barnard says much good has resulted from the exchange of ideas at that time. He says the dairymen before that time were suspicious of the State inspectors, but that since they have come to regard their suggestions with favor, and that this has brought good results in many instances.

At the September meeting addresses will be made by Dr. Ravenel, of the University of Wisconsin, who has made a study of the transmission of tuberculosis from cattle to human beings. Addresses also will be made by health experts and dairymen, some of them representing the federal department of agriculture.

HOTTER THAN BLAZES.

THAT NEW MOON.

The new moon is diagnosed as a "wet" one. Astronomers say there is nothing in it, that is to say, in the sign. It belongs to the old line of sayings, which includes the saying that seeing the new moon over the left shoulder or viewing it between the branches of trees brings ill luck.

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaudet management has the best program of the week to offer tonight in the two Biograph subjects, "The Eavesdropper" and "The Suicide Club." A Biograph film needs no introduction to the theater-going public, as they have a standard in their pictures, which is unexcelled. Earl Robertson will sing "What Makes the World go Round."

The program at the Star-Grand theater last night was one of exceptional merit. The comic subject, "Alfonse Gets in Wrong" was lively and full of mirth. The picture, "Miss Faust" is a beautiful hand-colored subject. It is a very amusing satire on the story of Faust, replete with funny incidents. The same bill will be shown tonight. Miss Iva Brown will sing "I Love You Girlie, But I Don't Know Why."

The program at the Palace last night was exceptionally well balanced with a comic and a dramatic subject. "Professor Fix Fixed" and "A Child's Prayer" are the titles of the pictures. The same program will be shown tonight. Miss Blanche Wrennick will sing, "If I Only Had a Sweetheart Just Like You."

GOING TO BLUE RIBBON RACES

Rush County Will be Well Represented at the Detroit Races Next Week.

LOCAL HORSES WILL START

Annual Trotting and Pacing Meeting Has Grown Each Year in Popularity.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary—the quarter centennial—of the Detroit Driving Club, July 26 to 30, next week, promises to be a memorable event. Since the first Blue Ribbon week in the eighties the annual trotting and pacing meeting at Detroit have grown until they today are recognized as the standard of the world. Men come from New England, from California, from Arizona and from Manitoba to pay homage to the finest type of horse and see speed contests under the auspices of an organization whose name has ever been linked with fair play and a most generous attraction for the people.

The track at the Michigan State fair grounds where the contests will be held is even faster than it was last year when the miles made on its surface were the talk of the land. On July 10, Hamburg Belle trotted a mile in 2:04 1/4, the fastest at either gate for the season to that date, and showing the excellence of the soil. In this connection it is worthy of note that this mare, the most likely two-minute trotter in training, will probably appear at the blue ribbon meeting in an effort to establish a new trotting record.

Reference has been made to the big fields in the stake events to be decided at the Detroit meeting and it is with much satisfaction that the directors of the club announce a more complete list of entries in the purse races than ever in the past. This insures royal sport from the first tap of the bell on Monday to the last heat on Friday. The greatest horses in America will be on hand and will be driven by such masters of the craft as Ed. F. Geers, Lon McDonald, Dick Wilson, Dick McMahon, Gus Macey, W. J. Andrews, W. L. Snow, Harris Jones, W. G. Durfee, G. C. Loomis, Thomas W. Murphy, Walter R. Cox, Dan Hopkins, John Dickerson, Joe Gahagan and others.

While the Merchants & Manufacturers' stake promises to be the greatest renewal of this classic it does not stand out alone this year. The program is exceptional, every one of the nineteen races to be held during the five afternoons being a feature in itself.

JACK THE PEEPER AT ANDERSONVILLE

Herald Says Peeper's Skin Will be Punctured Unfit For the Tan Yard.

FRIGHTENED SEVERAL WOMEN

"The Peeper" has manifested himself once more, says the Andersonville Herald. He has been seen at least a dozen times in the past two weeks. Manie Ryon and mother watched him for about an hour the other night; Mrs. Rachel Stevens and daughter, Bertha, discovered him in the rear of their home and on Wednesday evening Mesdames Esther and Kate Morgan were almost scared to death when they almost ran into him as he was pottering around in the rear of the latter's home. He is described as low and heavy set. People in general have a pretty good idea who the rascal is and it would be advisable for him to fade away.

and attend to his own business as our people are oiling up their old revolvers and there may be the "sound of revelry by night." Some incensed citizen may conclude to go gunning and Mr. Peeper's skin will be punctured so badly that it would not do to hang up in a tan yard to dry, Sabe?

BASE BALL NOTES

Says the Knightstown Banner: On Sunday comes the celebrated Rushville Giant Cubs, a team well versed in the ethics of the national sport. This aggregation is one of the best in Eastern Indiana and to take their scalps the home boys will have to apply a little more steam than usual. The Cubs are seasoned players, have a string of scalps dangling at their belts, and propose showing the home team how the game is played. If there is nice weather, a large audience will be out to greet the two clubs.

"How accurate you would be!" she exclaimed. "It would be a highly interesting achievement, Mr. Chase, if it were only borne out by facts. You see, I have not been married so much as three minutes."

He stared at her, uncomprehending. She went on, "Do you consider it bad luck to postpone a wedding?"

Involuntarily he drew his horse closer to hers. There was a new gleam in his eyes. Her blood leaped at the challenge they carried.

"Very bad luck," he said quite steadily, "for the bridegroom."

In an instant they seemed to understand something that had not even been considered before. She looked away, but he kept his eyes fast upon her half turned face, finding delight in the warm tint that surged so shamelessly to her brow. He wondered if she could hear the pounding of his heart above the thud of the horses' feet.

"We are to be married in June," she said, somewhat defiantly. Some of the light died in his eyes. "Prince Karl was very ill. They thought he might die. His—his studies—his music, I mean, proved more than he could carry. It—it is not serious. A nervous breakdown," she explained haltingly. "It was necessary to postpone the marriage. He will be quite well again, they say, by June."

"I hope he may be fully recovered, for your sake," he managed to say.

"Thank you." After a long pause she turned to him again and said, "We are to live in Paris for a year or two at least."

"He is in Paris now?"

"No," she answered, and that was all. He waited, but she did not expand her confidence.

"So it is to be in June," he mused. "In June," she said quietly. He sighed.

"I am more than sorry that you are a princess," he said boldly.

"I am quite sure of that," she said, so pointedly that he almost gasped. She was laughing comfortably, a mischievous gleam in her dark eyes. His laugh was as awkward as hers was charming.

"You do like to be flattered," he exclaimed at random. "And I shall take it upon myself to add to today's measure." He again drew forth his pocket-book. She looked on curiously. "Permit me to restore the lace handkerchief which you dropped some time ago. I've been keeping it for myself, but—"

"My handkerchief?" she gasped, her thoughts going at once to that ridiculous incident of the balcony. "It must belong to Lady Deppingham."

"Oh, it isn't the one you used on the balcony," he protested coolly. "It antedates that adventure."

"Balcony? I don't understand you," she contested.

"Then you are exceedingly obtuse."

"I never dreamed that you could see," she confessed pathetically.

"It was extremely nice in you and very presumptuous in me. But, your highness, this is the handkerchief you dropped in the castle garden six months ago. Do you recognize the perfume?"

"You are very sentimental," she said at last. "Would you care to keep it? It is of no value to me."

"Thanks! I will keep it."

"I've changed my mind," she said inconsequently, stuffing the fabric in her gauntlet. "You have something else in that pocketbook that I should very much like to possess."

"It can't be that Bank of England!"—

"No, no! You wrapped it in a bit of paper last week and placed it there for safe keeping."

"You mean the bullet?"

"Yes. I should like it to show to my friends, you know, when I tell them how near you were to being shot." Without a word he gave her the bullet that had dropped at his feet on that first day at the chateau. "Thank you. Oh, isn't it a horrid thing! Just to think, it might have struck you!" She shuddered.

He was about to answer in his de-lirium when a sharp turn in the road brought them in view of the chateau. Not a hundred yards ahead of them two persons were riding slowly, unattended, very much occupied in themselves. Their backs were turned toward Chase and the princess, but it was an easy matter to recognize them. The glance which shot from the princess to Chase found a peculiar smile disappearing from his lips.

"I know what you are thinking," she cried impulsively. "You are wrong—very wrong, Mr. Chase. Lady Deppingham is a born coquette—a born trifler. It is ridiculous to think that she can be seriously engaged in a—"

"It isn't that, princess," he interrupted, a dark look in his eyes. "I was merely wondering whether dear little Mrs. Browne is as happy as she might be."

Genevra was silent for a moment. "I had not thought of that," she said soberly.

CHAPTER XVI.
THE BURNING OF THE BUNGALOW.

HE went in and had tiffin with them in the hanging garden. Deppingham was surly and preoccupied. Drusilla Browne was unusually vivacious. At best she was not volatile; her greatest accomplishment lay in the ability to appreciate what others had to say.

Her husband, aside from a natural anxiety, was the same blithe optimist as ever. He showed no sign of restraint, no evidence of compunction. Chase found himself secretly speculating on the state of affairs. Were the two heirs working out a preconceived plan, or were they, after all, playing with the fires of spring?

Immediately after tiffin Genevra carried Lady Deppingham off to her room. When they came forth for a proposed stroll in the grounds Lady Agnes was looking very meek and tearful, while the princess had about her the air of one who has conquered by gentleness.

"It has been so appallingly dull, Genevra, don't you understand? That's why. Besides, it isn't necessary for her to be so horrid about it. She—"

"She isn't horrid about it, dear. She's most self sacrificing."

"Rubbish! She talks about the Puritans and all that sort of thing. I know what she means. But there's no use talking about it. I'll do as you say—command, I mean. I'll try to be a prude. Heaven alone knows what a real prude is. I don't. All this tommy-rot about Bobby and me wouldn't exist if that wretched Chase man had been a little more affable. He never noticed us until you came. No wife to snoop after him and—why, my dear, he would have been ideal."

"It's all very nice, Agnes, but you forget your husband," said Genevra, with a tolerant smile.

"Genevra," said Lady Agnes solemnly, "if you'd been on a barren island for five months as I have with nothing to look at but your husband and the sunsets you would not be so hard on me. I wouldn't take Drusilla's husband away from her for the world. I wouldn't even look at him if he were not on the barren island too. I've read novels in which a man and woman have been wrecked on a desert island and lived there for months, even years, in an atmosphere of righteousness. My dear, those novelists are ninnies. Nobody could be so good as all that without getting wings. I'm tired of men and angels. That's why I want you for awhile. You've got no wings, Genevra, but it's of no consequence, as you have no one to fly away from."

"Or to, you might add," laughed Genevra.

"That's very American. You've been talking to Miss Pelham. She's always adding things. By the way, Mr. Chase sees quite a lot of her. She types for him. I fancy she's trying to choose between him and Mr. Saunders. If you were she, dear, which would you choose?"

"Mr. Saunders," said Genevra promptly. "But if I were myself I'd choose Mr. Chase."

"Speaking of angels, he must have wings a yard long. He has been chosen by an entire harem, and he flies from them as if pursued by the devil. I imagine, however, that he'd be rather dangerous if his wings were to get out of order unexpectedly. But he's nice, isn't he?"

The princess nodded her head tolerantly.

Her ladyship went on: "I don't want to walk, after all. Let us sit here in the corridor and count the prisms in the chandeliers. It's such fun. I've done it often. Mr. Britt has advanced a new theory. We are to indulge in double barreled divorce proceedings. As soon as they are over Mr. Browne and I are to marry. Then we are to hurry up and get another divorce. Then we marry our own husband and wife all over again. Isn't it exciting? Only, of course, it isn't going to happen. It would be so frightfully improper—shocking, don't you know. You see, I should go on living with my divorced husband even after I was married to Bobby. I'd be obliged to do that in order to give Bobby grounds for a divorce as soon as the estate is settled. But Deppy has put his foot down hard. He says he had trouble enough getting me to marry him the first time. He won't go through it again. Of course it's utter nonsense!"

"A little nonsense now and then is"—began the princess and paused amiably.

"Is Mr. Chase to stay for lunch?" asked Lady Agnes irrelevantly.

"How should I know? I am not his hostess."

"Hoity toity! I've never known you to look like that before. A little dash of red sets your cheeks off!"—But Genevra threw up her hands in despair and started toward the stairway, her chin tilted high. Lady Agnes, laughing softly, followed. "It's too bad she's down to marry that horrid little Brabets," she said to herself, with a sudden wistful glance at the proud, vibrant, lovable creature ahead. "She deserves a better fate than that."

Genevra waited for her at the head of the stairway.

"Agnes, I'd like you to promise that you will keep your avaricious claws off Mrs. Browne's husband," she said seriously.

"I'll try, my dear," said Lady Agnes meekly.

When they reached the garden they found Deppingham smoking furiously and quite alone. Chase had left some time before to give warning to the English bank that trouble might be expected. The shadow of disappointment that flitted across Genevra's face was not observed by the others. Bobby Browne and his wife were off strolling in the lower end of the park.

"Poor old Deppy!" cried his wife. "I've made up my mind to be exceedingly nice to you for a whole day."

"I suppose I ought to beat you," he said slowly.

"Beat me? Why, pray?"

"I received an anonymous letter this morning telling me of your goings on with Bobby Browne," said he easily.

"Or to, you might add," laughed Genevra.

"That's very American. You've been talking to Miss Pelham. She's always adding things. By the way, Mr. Chase sees quite a lot of her. She types for him. I fancy she's trying to choose between him and Mr. Saunders. If you were she, dear, which would you choose?"

A dark, saturnine face appeared.

"It was stuck under my door by Bromley, who said that Miss Pelham gave it to her. Miss Pelham referred me to Mr. Britt, and Mr. Britt urged me to keep the letter for future reference. I think he said it could be used as Exhibit A. Then he advised me to beat you only in the presence of witnesses."

"The whole household must be going mad," cried Genevra, with a laugh.

"Oh, if something only would happen!" exclaimed her ladyship. "A riot, a massacre—anything! It all sounds like a farce to you, Genevra, but you haven't been here for five months, as we have."

MOTION QUICKLY OVERRULED

Judge Hoover at Watseka Would Not Listen to Motion to Quash the Indictments Against Dr. Miller, Mrs. Saylor and the Grundens, but Sustained a Motion to Continue the Cases Until the September Term of Court—Blitter Fight For Control of Saylor Estate.

Watsaka, Ill., July 23.—Under indictment for the murder of J. B. Saylor, the Crescent City banker, on July 11, Dr. William Miller, Mrs. J. B. Saylor and John and Ira Grunden were brought into court to make their pleas and accept the indictments. All pleaded not guilty. Free P. Morris of counsel for the defense, made a motion to quash the indictments. He was quickly overruled by Judge Hoover, but his motion to have the case continued for pleas and trial until the November term of court was sustained by Judge Hoover, and there will be no special term called. John Grunden appeared to be badly frightened and dazed by the proceedings. No effort will be made, it is understood, to get bail for Ira Grunden. There will be a bitter fight between Mrs. J. B. Saylor and her dead husband's family for control of his estate when the appointment of an administrator comes up. Under the law Mrs. Saylor has the first choice, but the Saylor brothers will endeavor to have one to their liking appointed.

AGED WOMEN REMEMBERED

Mrs. Jones's Will Provides a Quarter Million Dollar Home For Them.
Galesburg, Ill., July 21.—By the terms of the will of Mrs. Mary E. Jones of Knoxville, an estate of $600,000 was distributed among a large number of beneficiaries. The most important bequest which came as a grateful surprise to the people of Knoxville was that of $250,000 for the erection and maintenance of a home there for aged women. It is stipulated that the building must not cost more than $50,000 and that the income from the balance of the gift will be used for its maintenance.

The bequest is placed in the hands of S. Minot Jones of Chicago and George Starnes of Galesburg, nephews of Mrs. Jones, and Hubbard Huggins of Knoxville, as trustees.

The Presbyterian, Methodist, and Christian churches of Knoxville will each receive $3,000 from the state.

Trolley Road Refuses to Treat With Strikers or Public.
Fort Wayne, Ind., July 23.—The traction strike, which has for four days stopped all traffic on the Fort Wayne & Kendallville branch of the Toledo & Chicago Interurban road, has reached a stage where the company, which is in the hands of a receiver, refuses to treat either with the men or the business men's committees. The company contends that the men struck without reason and before the superintendent could get his answer from Receiver Mortimer, who was in New York. The men have been discharged and the company is hiring new men.

GIRL GETS DAMAGES

Jury Awards $300 In a $5,000 Breach of Promise Suit.
Petersburg, Ind., July 23.—Robert Arnold, a wealthy young farmer living just east of here, failed to carry out his agreement to marry Miss Janie Weathers, a neighbor's daughter. The jury brought in a verdict giving the girl $300 damages. The suit was filed for $5,000 and was void of scandal. The girl had made all preparations for the marriage, which was to have taken place several months ago, when the would-be bridegroom decided he did not wish to get married.

LOBBYISTS BARRED OUT

Tariff Conferencees Decide to Go It Alone.

CREATED MUCH CONFUSION

Representatives of the Special Interests Began to Run Around in Circles When They Found the Doors of the Conference Chamber Closed Against Them—There Is a Feeling That So-Called "National Issues" Held Up in Conference May Be Adjusted Today.

Washington, July 24.—It is said today that the prospects of an early settlement by the tariff conferencees of the schedules relating to coal, lumber, hides, oil, iron ore, the cotton schedule and wood pulp and print paper are excellent.

Should the conference complete its work today it would be impossible to report it before Tuesday, as the house, which agreed to the conference on the tariff bill and therefore under the rules must receive it before the senate, has adjourned until Tuesday.

Heroic measures have been put into operation in an effort to compose differences existing between the senate and the house on the tariff bill and to carry out President Taft's program for a reduction of duties on raw materials. All except the actual conferencees were excluded from the chamber, and it was agreed that discussions leading up to a settlement of any of the subjects familiarly termed "national issues" should be regarded as confidential. All of the conferencees said that the feelings entertained for each other were more pleasant than they had been for many days.

The news that the conferencees had excluded the clerks of the committee and were trying to reach decisions on the important item in dispute was not long in reaching the hordes of lobbyists in the corridor leading to the conference chamber. From that moment everything was confusion. The representatives of special interests used, without success, every sort of artful dodge in their anxiety to learn something of the nature of the proceedings. Several times the voices of the conferencees sounded through the walls at a high pitch that indicated anything but harmony, and this added to the excitement. If there was any friction, it was smoothed over before the conference was adjourned.

THE NAVY RESTS

Evidence on One Side of the Sutton Case Practically Ended.

Annapolis, Md., July 24.—The navy has practically rested its case in the investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of Lieutenant James N. Sutton of Portland, Ore., who was adjudged a suicide by the naval board of inquiry two years ago, and Commander John Hood, U. S. N., president of the court of inquiry, has adjourned the hearing until Monday. With the exception of Lieutenant Harold H. Utley and Surgeon F. C. Cook, recently attached to the battleship North Carolina and now on the way to this country from Europe, nearly all the remaining witnesses are considered to be witnesses for the interested parties outside of the service. Utley and Cook are not expected here before Aug. 1.

Major Leonard, judge advocate of the court, said that the witnesses on hand ought to be disposed of by Wednesday, and then an adjournment taken until the absent witnesses arrived. Lieutenant Roelker, who is supposed to have been hit with a bullet from Sutton's revolver during the quarrel, has not yet been located, although his testimony is considered most important. The list of witnesses remaining to be examined consist of Lieutenant Utley, Surgeon Cook, Lieutenant Templin, M. Potts, jr., Prof. Gilbert P. Coleman of the naval academy, Frank Fogg of Washington, D. C., Private Charles Kennedy, Mrs. Sutton and her daughter.

Business confidence is developing rapidly, although it is notable that enterprise is not yet outrunning conservatism in buying for the distant future, says Dun's review.

CHICAGO WRESTLING WITH GRAFT PROBLEM

Grand Jury Hears of Police Protection of Vice.

Chicago, July 24.—The grand jury is said to have been put in possession of evidence disclosing an astounding tale of graft in the so-called westside levee of Chicago.

Detective Sergeant Jeremiah Griffin, alleged to have been the collector of protection money from dive keepers, gamblers and cocaine sellers, was indicted on eight counts. He is alleged to have garnered as high as $9,000 a month, a very small part of which remained in his own pockets. In all, Griffin, who travels out of the Desplains street station, headquarters of Inspector McCann, is alleged to have collected $150,000 from denizens of the underworld of the west side.

Indictments were also returned against Louis Frank, saloon keeper and politician, who is said to have accumulated a fortune of $1,000,000 in the levee district, and against Michael Heitler, the latter being familiarly known as "Mike the Pike." They are alleged to have collected money from illegal houses by representing themselves as agents of the police.

Testimony against Griffin was given by Charles Yanker, a levee proprietor known commonly as "Monkey Charley." Morris Schatz, who is said to conduct an illegal establishment at 108 Peoria street, appears on the indictment as complainant. Four detectives also gave testimony. One witness charged that the price of protection rose recently from $20 to $40 a month, and that he was compelled to quit business on account of the expense.

TO GO TO STATE

Battleship Indiana's Historic Figurehead Will Be Sent to Indianapolis.

Washington, July 24.—Indiana is to have for permanent keeping in the state museum at Indianapolis the massive figurehead of the battleship Indiana, which is one of the interesting relics of the old navy.

Representative Korbly made application several days ago for this relic, and he has just received a favorable reply from the navy department. The figurehead is of metal and weighs two tons. It is molded in the shape of a bust of George Washington, and is an historic ornament. It will rank as one of the state's most valuable relics.

This figurehead went through the Spanish-American war and was on the battleship Indiana during the battle of Santiago.

Quick British Justice.

London, July 24.—Madaral Dhinagri, the Indian student, who, on the night of July 1, shot and killed Lieutenant Colonel Sir William Hutt Curzon Wyllie and Dr. Cawas Loloca, was found guilty and sentenced to death at the conclusion of a trial of less than an hour's duration.
